Development Projects

Budget Pros Paired Program - BudgetPros is a site that aids users in becoming more conscious of their spending, and helps users organize their transactions. Our site can make users more mindful of their spending by having users update their profile with each transaction and categorize them to see what they spend on non-essential expenses. Utilizing Spring Security, JPA Repositories, the use of Spring Boot, Thymeleaf, Bootstrap, CSS and JavaScript our views are dynamic, secure and user friendly.

Adlister Project Paired programming, full stack application, developed with a team of three by utilizing Java, JSPs, Servlets, MySQL, and MVC. Users of the project can search for a state park and find hiking trails and various information about the state park. Links to more information are included in the application, along with trail maps.

Coffee Project Paired programming, front-end project created in order to showcase products to current and or potential customers. Using Javascript and HTML it provides search functionality, by name or roast type, and the ability to add custom user coffees. The list updates in real time. CSS and Bootstrap were used to design the layout of the page.

Movie Project Paired programming team project that provides users with a simple, customizable single-page application. Utilizes JavaScript and JQuery to carry out Ajax requests to a mock database. The Movie App allows users to add, delete, edit movies. We used HTML and CSS for the presentation.
